Life Is Interesting

Life is interesting.

Yesterday, I watched a movie about the simple life of an ordinary family.

Their life after the father passed away.

Don't you become the same as your dead father who gambled his life away, I tell you...
I know I know, I'll pay you double next time I visit.

I know you must be out of money everytime you come visit...

Trust me, I'll buy you a nice house when I become a best-selling novelist one day!

Yeah yeah, I'm just not sure if I can wait for that day.
Don't say such things!

Do you want me to haunt you in your dreams?
Like how your dad visits me in my dreams sometimes.

My house
Where is my big house
Oi, stop it!
Don't say ominous things!

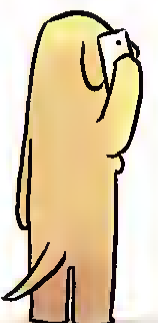
I don't see the problem talking about death.
I'm old, I'll die one day.
It's just life.

Which do you think is better,
lying half-dead on the bed or suddenly poof - die?
Mum...

EXIT

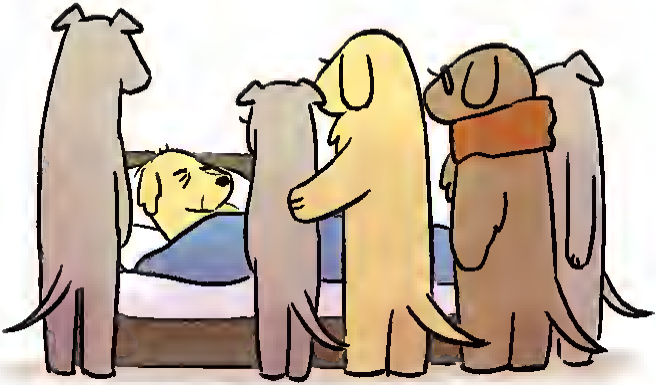
Last week,

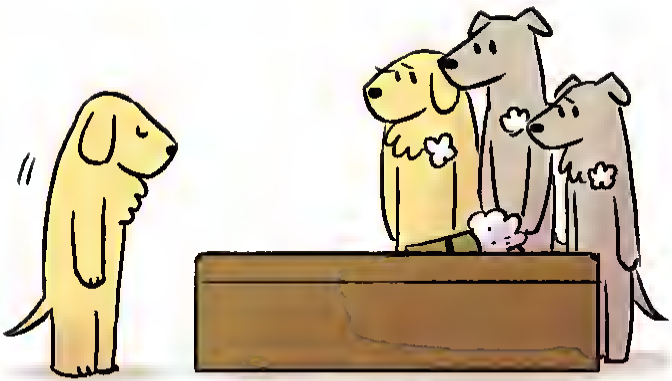
a relative of mine left this world.



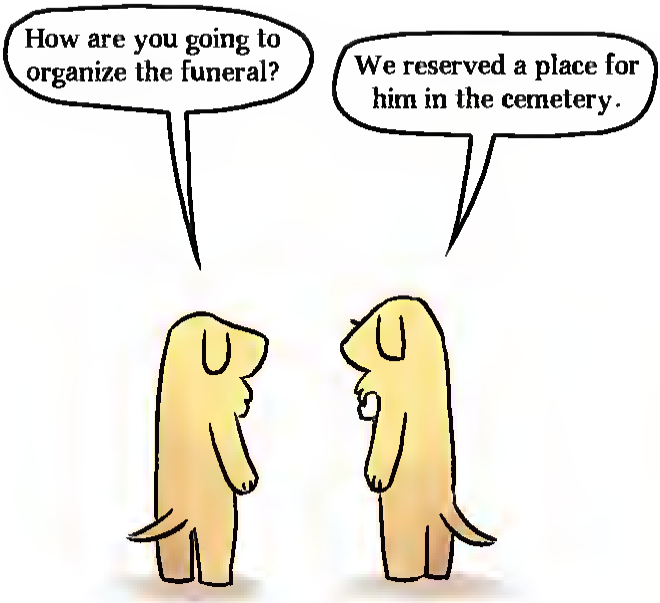
He left peacefully in a comfortable environment,

surrounded by his family.





It's a miracle everyone can meet him before he left.
We are very thankful.



How are you going to organize the funeral?
We reserved a place for him in the cemetery.

There are many ways to commemorate someone.

Some likes to maintain a permanent place for future generations to remember.

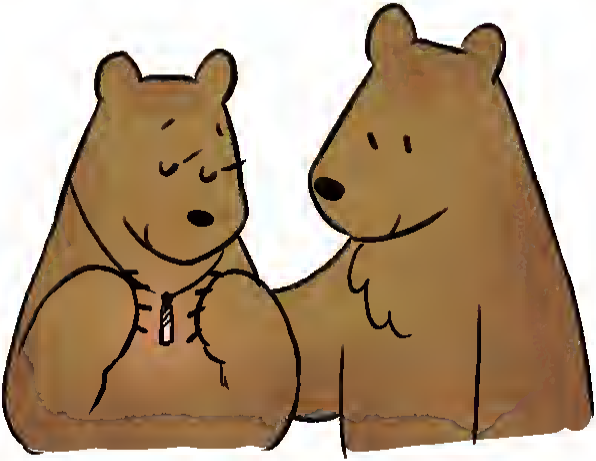
Some prefers a charm for memorial.



Some likes to return to mother nature.

It seems very distant to me,
but I think I prefer embracing nature.

We arrive this world carrying nothing with us,

the same way that we leave this world.

It's always difficult to say goodbye.

But just then, one of my friends welcomed a newborn baby.
